

Minorities & Philosophy
(MAP)

FIRST & LAST QUESTIONS

Non-academic philosophy workshop
for young people

WHO WE ARE

Minorities and Philosophy chapter
(Department of Philosophy, CEU)

Xiyue Yang (1st-year MA)

Darren S Rondganger (1st-year MA)

Frank Hernandez (2nd-year MA)

Sun Schuette (2nd-year BA)

Emily K Williamson (1st-year PhD)

Brylea Hollinshead (1st-year MA)

Maria Fedorova (2nd-year MA)

WHAT WE DO

We are running a series of creative philosophy workshops for young people (target age: primary school - high school students). These workshops will bring philosophy out of the academy and introduce young thinkers to philosophical questions, ideas and skills.

Our cooperator: Philosophieren mit Kindern

WHAT TO EXPECT

- A fun and meaningful series of workshops
- A guided exploration of fundamental life questions
- Critical and creative thinking skills
- Lots of games that spark philosophical curiosity

PROJECT DEMO

- Step 1: Introduce a question, e.g., who am I?
- Step 2: Spark ideas through fun activities
- Step 3: Discuss students' ideas
- Step 4: Further develop students' ideas

OUR TOPICS

- ① How should we live?
- ② What can we know?
- ③ Who am I?
- ④ What is art?

And more...

OUR MISSION

We think everyone is puzzled by some fundamental philosophical questions. But, philosophy is often seen as an abstract and highly intellectual endeavour. Many students from diverse backgrounds never have the opportunity to deeply engage with philosophy.

We think philosophy is for everyone and that there is more than one way to philosophise. Our workshops will offer a fun and creative way to engage with key philosophical problems and potential solutions. We further hope that through this introduction to philosophy, students can continue thinking deeply about philosophical questions and keep this curiosity for their whole life.

CONTACT US:

Our website:

<https://philosophy.ceu.edu/MAP>

Our email:

ceumap@ceu.edu

You can contact our chief organiser directly:

xiyue\_yang@student.ceu.edu